THE BIRTH OF A DAY.
Moment When Tranquil Beauty of Nature Is Best Seen.

The little group of tall white pines, on the opposite hill is slightly tinged with orange. Soon their tips are brightly gilded. An unseen hand draws back the curtains of mist and he lake lies clear before you. Its surface is velvety black, so soft and untroubled that it must be solid. In the night the familiar water has changed to black obsidian through some strange alchemy of nature. The sun has partially flooded the opposite shore of the lake with its golden light, and every tree and bush is brightly outlined against the black depths of the forest. But where is the shore line? It has disappeared, and no one can tell where earth begins and water ends. The whole fringe of forest has faded and each white birch, each twig on the hemlocks, every fan of the cedars is duplicated in the watery mirror. It is difficult to tell which is the object and which the image, so perfect in color and detail is the reflection. Truly we cannot blame Nature for lingering before her glass to admire her own tranquil beauty. She does not tarry long, however, for a slight rustling is audible in the trees. The pines give a low crooning note, and a faint ripple appears upon the surface of the water. It spreads, and soon the mirror has been broken into little wavelets that dance and sparkle brilliantly blue in the golden sunlight. There is joy in the world; the child is born. Every bird is in full song, every insect hums its gladness, and all animate nature joins in the congratulatory chorus. The old blue heron near the creek, who has been standing like a sentinel on guard, solemnly comes to life, and slowly and majestically stalks along the shore in his daily hunt for food. All nature is astir, and the business of the day is on. The young morning, conscious of its growing strength, rejoices in its existence.—J. V. Quarles, Jr., in the Outer's Book.

Ideals and Acts.
Ideals are more potent than acts. Let a millionaire give $10,000 to a hospital. The public is for the moment struck, but who says the institution itself remembers the gift next day? Let a "leader of society" start a charity bazaar. Let her gather a little crowd around her. Let the stallholders be visions of beauty—their coloring perhaps just a trifle "assisted"—and under their spell let the buying be brisk, and a great financial success be scored. The masses will read the account in their newspapers with wondering admiration, but they will find there no wholesome stimulus for themselves, since the motive of the brilliant function was rooted in display. In charity, as elsewhere, it is, I repeat, not the action, but the spirit of the agent that permanently tells.—Fortnightly Review.

Baltimore Now Bright City.
Since the fire the color of Baltimore has changed. It used to be a town of red bricks, and to an observer standing at the top of the Washington monument it appeared distinctly ruddy. But in the buildings erected since the fire the old style red bricks have been used but little. Most facades are yellow or gray or white or salmon pink. The result is that the city looks lighter and brighter. But what the smoke and dust of ten years will do to this clay brilliance remains to be seen.

Ice and Electricity.
Ice is an almost perfect non-conductor of electricity. In this connection a prominent engineer has suggested the use of a pipe of metal for an electrical conductor. It would be immersed in a subway kept filled with water and through it cold brine from a freezing machine would be allowed to circulate. This would freeze the water in contact with the pipe, thereby insulating it. The brine would be used in supplying artificial cold to refrigerators in stores, markets, or even in private houses.

Have Claw on Wing.
Some birds while young have a claw on the wing which is used by the bird not as a weapon, but as an assistance in dragging itself along, after the manner of a bat. The gallinules are an example of birds having such claws while young, the structure being lost before the birds reach maturity.

FADED TO A SHADOW.
Worn Down by Five Years of Suffering from Kidney Complaint.

Mrs. Remette Myers, of 180 South Tenth St., Trenton, N. J., says: "I have worked hard in my time and have been exposed again and again to changes of weather. It is no wonder my kidneys gave out and I went all to pieces at last. For five years I was fading away and finally so weak that for six months I could not get out of the house. I was nervous, restless and sleepless at night, and lame and sore in the morning. Sometimes everything would whirl and blur before me. I bloated so badly I could not wear tight clothing, and had to put on shoes two sizes larger than usual. The urine was disordered and passages were dreadfully frequent. I got help from the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills, however, and by the time I had taken four boxes the pain and bloating were gone. I have been in good health ever since."

Year's Cigarette Output.
The cigarette output of 4,368,729,015 in the calendar year of 1906 must have come as a surprise to the bulk of the trade, but more stunning yet its increase in one year of $42,240,425, an increase by nearly 300,000,000 larger than the increase of our cigar industry during the same year. This jump is the more remarkable in the face of the pronounced and unrelenting hostility of a half dozen state legislatures which have ostracized not only the manufacture but also the handling and consumption of cigarettes within the confines of their respective territories.—United States Tobacco Journal.

THREE BOYS HAD ECZEMA.
Were Treated at Dispensary—Did Not Improve—Suffered Five Months—Perfect Cure by Cuticura.

"My three children had eczema for five months. A little sore would appear on the head and seemed very itchy, increasing day after day. The baby had had it about a week when the second boy took the disease and a few sores developed, then the third boy took it. For the first three months I took them to the N. Dispensary, but they did not seem to improve. Then I used Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment and in a few weeks they had improved, and when their heads were well you could see nothing of the sores. Mrs. Kate Keim, 513 West 29th St., New York, N. Y., Nov. 1, 5 and 7, 1906."

WOMEN IN HOSPITALS
Experiences of Mrs. Rockwood and Miss Tierney

MISS MARGARET TIERNEY MRS. CHAS. A. ROCKWOOD

A large proportion of the operations performed in our hospitals are upon women and girls for some organic trouble.

Why should this be the case? Because they have neglected themselves, as every one of these patients in the hospital beds had plenty of warning in those dragging sensations, pains at left or right of abdomen, backaches, nervous exhaustion, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, and other organic weaknesses.

All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female system and if not heeded the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation. When these symptoms manifest themselves, do not drag along until you are obliged to go to the hospital and submit to an operation—but remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, has saved hundreds of women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has cured more cases of feminine ills than any other one remedy. Such letters as the following are constantly being received by Mrs. Pinkham to prove our claims.

Mrs. C. A. Rockwood, teacher of Parliamentary Law, of 58 Free St., Fredonia, N. Y., writes:

"For years I suffered with female trouble. It was decided that an operation was necessary, and although I submitted to a serious operation, my sufferings continued, until Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended and it proved a marvelous remedy, so quickly did it restore my health. I cannot thank you sufficiently for the good it has done me."

Miss Margaret Tierney, of No. 328 W. 25th Street, New York, writes:

"When only eighteen years of age our physician decided that an operation was necessary to permit of my womanly organs performing their natural functions. My mother objected and being urged by a relative to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did so. I soon improved in health, the proper conditions were established and I am well and strong, thanks to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

No other remedy has such unqualified endorsement as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. No other remedy in the world has such a record of cures of female ills.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to promptly communicate with Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. From the symptoms given, the trouble may be located and the quickest and surest way of recovery advised. Out of her vast volume of experience in treating female ills Mrs. Pinkham probably has the very knowledge that may help your case. Her advice is free and always helpful.
